QUICK GUIDE

RECORD, WAIT, REVIEW

What it is, how to spot it and what to do with it.

WHAT IT IS

The practice loop is a simple routine: record your session, wait a day so your ears are fresh, review it with notes, then redo the weakest part.

WHAT YOU'LL NOTICE

Progress you can hear. Each week's recording is better than the last.

RECORD, WAIT, REVIEW, REDO

- RECORD — Every practice session.
- WAIT — A day, so your ears reset.
- REVIEW — Note the weakest timecode.
- REDO — Fix that one transition.

01

ONE GOAL PER SESSION

Pick one technique and get it tight.

02

RECORD EVERY TIME

Check your levels first so the recording is usable.

03

REVIEW AFTER A DAY

Log the timecodes of transitions you want to redo.

DO THIS TONIGHT

Repeat one transition between the same two songs until it is clean.

- [ ] Pick one transition and record the take.
- [ ] Listen back tomorrow and mark the weakest timecode.
- [ ] Redo only that part, then record again.

PRACTICE & CHECK

RECORD, WAIT, REVIEW: YOUR TURN

WHERE YOU'LL MEET IT AS A DJ

- Practicing one transition until it is clean.
- Keeping a log of timecodes to fix.
- Building a mix you are happy to share.

QUICK CHECK

1. Why wait before reviewing?

2. What do you log while listening?

3. How many goals per session?

Answer key: 1) Your ears are fresh after a day. 2) Timecodes of weak transitions. 3) One.

REMEMBER

You can't fix what you never hear.
